VALLEY GREEN

Presented by the CLASS OF 1969
Passaic Valley Regional High School
Little Falls, New Jersey
Fade in, fade out . . .
The problems of Yesterday become the
Jokes of tomorrow . . .
The carelessness of
Youth gives way to
The responsibility
Of age . . . Childhood
Friends drift into
Being memories,
Enemies become
Loved ones . . .

Life begins to take
Focus, each person
Determining their
Own point of view,
Their own reality.
Values float above
Us, each man grasps
Those that fit him
Best. Gradually,
Each man sees himself
In what seems an
Overnight change.
Each man awakens.

Mrs. LaVerne Weber
With the unfailing guidance and inspiration of Mrs. LaVerne Becker, class advisor, the class of '70 has come to the end of another worthwhile year. Able officers and hard-working students have built a strong foundation for coping with the responsibilities that the next year will bring. A highlight of this year's accomplishments was the Christmas Cotillion. The junior class has gained the experience and knowledge necessary to take the place of the outgoing seniors.

Juniors Sponsor Annual Cotillion

The Junior Class sponsored their annual Christmas Cotillion on Saturday, December 14, in the Boys' Gym. The doors opened at 8:00 p.m. with music provided by the Crystal Maze.

Cheryl Fernandez, head of the decorations committee, worked vigorously to create an atmosphere complementing the theme, "Christmas Wonderland by Night." Honey-combed Christmas bells hanging from the ceiling, bells accenting the walls, and favors hung on imitation Christmas trees carried the theme throughout the Gym. A live Christmas tree, standing in the center of the room, added a touch of sentiment to the dimly lit holiday surroundings.

Refreshments were served in the lobby where the school store was previously located and were made by the Refreshment Committee headed by Sue Boonstra, Marilyn Decker, Pat Miller, Bonnie Summerton.

Bids sold for $3.50 and included a 5 by 7 inch picture of each couple. The Ticket Committee was headed by Mary Ellen McCabe and Bonnie Summerton. Other committees were Posters, led by Lynn Frucci, and Coat Check, headed by Kathy Graepel.

Highly successful and enjoyed by all, the Cotillion was the highlight of the Junior Year.

Mr. Stewart

Under the guiding leadership of their able advisor, Mr. Lawrence Stewart, the class of ’71 now finds itself halfway toward the ultimate goal: graduation. With the aid of conscientious officers and willing workers, this past year has been one sparked with achievements for the sophomore class. Outstanding among these was the tremendous sell-out success of the “Battle of the Bands”. Participation in athletics and other school events illustrates the important role of the sophomores in the life of Valley.
Sophomores
As every class advisor has undoubtedly found out, it is a difficult challenge to be an inspiring coordinator to so many students. Mrs. Carolyn Mezger has met that challenge. With talented, diligent officers and other interested members, the class of '72 has begun its four year trek successfully. Spirit and enthusiasm were manifested in the annual magazine sale, as in the Freshman Dance, this year entitled "Philosophy Unlimited." The three remaining years will pass swiftly, but each will be conquered by this enterprising class.

Freshmen Elect 7 Class Officers for First Year

On Friday morning, December 6, 1968, in the Boys Gym, the Class of 1972 held its elections in which it created the nucleus that will guide it in its first year in Passaic Valley. The victors are: President, John Vail, Vice President, Kathy Cody, Treasurer, Maureen Miller, Assistant Treasurer, Joyce Santillo, Corresponding Secretary, Marietta Shadel, Recording Secretary, Wendy Gorab, and Historian, Jane Patrisso. The class advisor is Mrs. Carolyn Mezger.

Speeches were given by each of the twenty-five candidates and were followed by secret ballot voting in ninth grade homerooms. The results were announced during eighth period.

When the class officers were interviewed and asked to give their views on the goals they would like to see obtained by the class, their response was unanimous in their desire to attain class cooperation.

Omar Bolotok’s family began centuries before Christ and ruled Caucasia until 1813, when many members of the royal family were assassinated by the Russians. The title to the throne was passed down to members of the family who had escaped, when Omar’s father inherited it. Omar’s family traveled throughout the Middle East, running from persecution by Communists and enemies. Many threats, including threats of death, were made on the family. They moved to the United States in 1958 due to the American occupation of Beirut. They have been able to live here free from persecution.

The White and Green teams presented the 29th Annual Girls' Show this year, on April 18th and 19th. The theme this year was, "Land of Make-Believe," and was used by both teams. Due to the efforts of White Chief Reini Vandertas, and Green Chief Judy Maglio, and their Committee Heads, the show proved to be an exciting one.

Friday night's show was started by the White Committee Heads' Jack Frosts, to be complemented by the Marching Snowmen. Next, the Green Committee Heads' Alice in Wonderland Characters and Marching Red Riding Hoods followed. To finish the first night, the White and Green teams participated in Basketball.

On Saturday night, the show began with the White Red Riding Hoods, to be followed by the Green Hiawatha Indians. Then, the White Moonmaids danced against the Green Angels, to create what was probably the most imaginative event. For an exciting close, there were the White and Green Relays, and the presentation of the Cheering Trophy. This year, the White Cheerleaders were Mrs. Santas, with the Green Cheerleaders as Minnie Mice.

Due to the excellent sportsmanship, imaginative routines and creative costumes, this year's show was an enjoyable experience for both the participants and spectators.
